The image shows a complex industrial food processing plant. In the foreground, a conveyor belt with green guides moves small, round, orange-colored products. Above this, a larger curved conveyor belt carries rectangular packages. Two workers in white uniforms and hairnets are visible, one standing near the curved belt and another further back. The background is filled with various industrial machines, pipes, and a large vertical cylindrical structure. A semi-transparent text box in the upper right corner contains production statistics.
